

Up building and Disintegration - The key to understanding current events

Adapted from Memoir of Dr. Friedrich Rauber

Without the Grail Knowledge, it would be impossible to know what is at stake in today's current affairs - or, to put it better, in the cosmic world change.

These days, one reads and hears, here and there, contributions that are not all together wrong, by people who do not yet know anything of the Grail Message. Such writers probably already have a certain spiritual connection with the knowledge of creation revealed by Abdrushin, and one day they will certainly also be Spiritually guided, to encounter the Grail Message on earth and will then certainly become valuable laborers in the reconstruction, in the sense of the Creative Will.

A small number of spiritually-oriented people already know that the point here is that the Will of the Creator, the "Holy Will of God", must henceforth be taken into consideration in governing everyday life, in all spheres of life. And that the instantaneous and immediate effect of the Creator's Will in the life of Earth's humanity is occurring for the first time! [1] Never before has humanity experienced something like this.

In the current ongoing events, one can, these days, see two kinds of Wills at work— There is what we see manifest as our works. That is the will of many modern men, who, having turned away from GOD, can no longer see GOD's Will, nor want to know it. They believe their activity can be based solely on in their intellect, which, without the Will of the Creator, can only extend to earthly material things. However, the darkness stands behind them, applying the whip, which is antagonistic to the light in its completely different way. The second Will, which has effect on the course of all events, and is perceptible to every attentive, spiritually alert observers, is the Creator's Will. Since this can only build up, its effects at up building will become increasingly more noticeable in all areas of life. But, the darkness, materialism with its disintegrating and destructive efforts is also increasingly coming to the fore. Therefore, we have today Up building and Disintegration, both sides struggling for superiority, to finally claim sole dominion over the individual man and entire community life.

Both the up building and disintegration take place along the path of development.

But every development needs time. In other words, it is slow but steady.

Anyone who exclusively seeks to understand current affairs only in material terms will go completely astray. Only he who is "free", based on the knowledge of creation contained in the Grail Message, can distinguish the right from the wrong. Such a person, therefore, sees current events from both sides; that of the spirit, and also with his intellect. Therefore, he is able to 'recognize' the up building as well as the disintegration that is occurring at the same time. The materialist is only able to acknowledge (see/recognize) activities that bear the seeds of disintegrating, but which he believes to be up building.

These two directions are becoming more and more pronounced in all areas of 'life'.

The spiritually awake people stand today vastly outnumbered by those who are spiritually asleep - the materialists. For the materialists, the victory of materialism seems to be an incontrovertible destiny. But he is wrong! Certainly the darkness - materialism - will have great visible results to show, but the number of people awakening to spirituality is increasing day by day. These also receive connection with the radiation through which the Creator's Will has a direct effect on the lives of the human spirits on Earth. Their connection with the Will of GOD becomes stronger with their desire and as they maintain their connection. Their grateful receiving will increase steadily, while the materialists who have turned away from GOD, in becoming more and more empty, will receive less light power, which is necessary for earthly activity. Thus, the activities/developments of the materialist will eventually all disintegrate!

The Spirit towers over the intellect. It is able to recognize everything and to see through the machinations of the darkness, even when the darkness gives the impression that it is working in the sense of the Creator's Will.

A spiritual person also recognizes with his inner sensing (intuition) that there are truly people of light among his contemporaries. And that strengthens his courage and his confidence. Only to these people, and only to them, does the future belong, because they are the "bearers of light", of the Creative Will, which is perfect and omnipotent, and must ultimately be the sole victor.

From the foregoing, it becomes clear how important the awakening of the human spirit is. It is the most important thing that there is on earth. The primary objective of the Grail Message is the awakening of the Spirit at the "Cosmic turning of the world".

Spiritual science and earthly science must also henceforth work hand in hand to promote the Creator's Will to victory in all earthly life. The last decades have shown where the earth science, without connection with the spirit, leads people. We experience it anew daily.

When a person knows (understands) that contemporary events are about the final battle between light and darkness, in which only the light can conquer, but in whose victory every single human being has to play its part, if he wishes to continue to exist, then such a person has "recognized" everything. -----

It is true that different levels of spiritual maturity exist in every human community. It is also natural that the most developed are in the minority compared to the less mature. And without the more ennobling stimuli, each community becomes stagnant, rigid, or dead. The "stimulators" or "glowers" however, cannot be defined as we please, but rather they emerge spontaneously; one recognizes them visibly only by the fruits born by their activity!

Those so identified will, according to the law of attraction of homogenous species, form a separate community of like-minded people. And they must ensure pure inspiration or radiating within themselves individually and as a group. They form, so to speak, the blood of the community, which must never stand still, so that the community body should not fall ill and eventually perish. Human history gives us valuable insights into the well-being and woe in the different community formations (civilizations). As the most enduring, and probably the most correct kind of hierarchical community structure, has proven, because it corresponds to the structure in the sense of the Creative Will[2]. But the existing hierarchical structure of certain communities is partially rigid, and must now be shaken (disintegrate) because it has not maintained the development which all spiritual things must follow. Today, earthly humanity is in possession of that knowledge, of correct wisdom, which is necessary to develop a community organization and community order, completely in the sense of the Creator's Will. This is not an arbitrary (artificial) solution, but a major development process in which all individuals must participate without distinction of religion, race, rank or status and nationality. But the form will manifest according to the maturity of the human community.

This is very difficult and completely incomprehensible to intellectual men and materialists because they are only able to recognize things with their intellect (understanding), which is bound to time and space, and to act only from that stand point. But, not with the Spirit, which is high and is enthroned above the intellect and time and space. Thus it, the Spirit, is not bound to time and space. As we know from Abdrushin - the only Teacher of the World - the intellect is bound to the gross material brain, and therefore can recognize and produce only the same species, that is, only gross material things. To the materialist everything spiritual has a gate with seven seals, and must remain so as long as he does not change for the better.

All that is gross material serves only as a covering, for shaping, and is itself dead or lifeless. Coverings, like forms, are animated by the Spirit, and life exists only in the Spirit.

An intellectual construct is therefore dead from the beginning and condemned to failure, because such cannot be influenced by the living spirit, it cannot, as it stands today, be a tool for the development of the individual human spirit, or the entire humanity. But, that, after all, is the very essence of human life on earth.

It is impossible, therefore, to carry out an up-building construction of the human community or social order if solely based on the intellect. Otherwise, it will harbor the germ of disintegration from the very beginning.

[1] The author is referring to the intensification, on Earth, of the Law of Sowing and Reaping!

[2] The author is alluding here to the caste or class structure of pre-modern societies and cultures.